THE DAD DIFFERENCE

Children thrive and families grow strong when an active, supportive father is present. Children with absent fathers struggle in every area of development.

Some fathers choose to be uninvolved, but most desperately want to be in their children's lives. Yet, many men who want to be great dads find themselves facing barriers - lack of education, low-wage employment, poor self-confidence.

That's where we come in.

Our fatherhood program helps men overcome the obstacles keeping them from being the material, emotional and spiritual providers their children need.

RECONNECTING FATHERS REBUILDING FAMILIES

Working with men from the inside out, our holistic approach to self-assessment and goal-setting begins by creating a "one-man plan" that addresses key areas of responsible fatherhood including:

- Parenting and Co-Parenting
- Healthy Relationships
- Job Readiness and Employment
- Economic Stability
- Child Support and Visitation
- Personal Development

WORKING TOGETHER

We are part of a statewide network of local fatherhood programs helping fathers, children and families grow strong.

The South Carolina Center for Fathers and Families coordinates this initiative. Working together, we serve thousands of fathers each year in our mission to break the devastating cycle of father-absence.

As the longest-running fatherhood-focused program in the state, our collective expertise and understanding of those we serve allows us to deliver vital services that are changing the lives of fathers and families – today and tomorrow.

Through individual coaching, group program sessions and peer support, our program changes men's lives, and reconnects them to their children and to the promise of a better future.

Our service is provided free of charge.

The only costs are time and commitment.
